Environmental Barriers and Challenges

- The schedule for the recruitment of first year students was changed by administrators and implemented in a manner that resulted in an increase in alcohol-related incidents during the second 6-week period of the fall semester.
- Also, limited staffing in the Office of Fraternities, Sororities, and Independent Living hindered professional staff members in working more proactively with fraternity chapters to help them develop new ways for planning events and recruiting. Furthermore, staffing was insufficient to provide each chapter with the time and attention necessary to avoid alternative activities and consequent policies for violations that may lead to a higher level of risk.
- Jurisdictional exist in recruiting context of several campuses, Cornell Police do not have jurisdiction off-campus. Ithaca Police, who do have jurisdiction over off-campus, face staffing problems with the ability to conduct joint patrols with Ithaca Police. There are limitations in the extent to which the Cornell Police can monitor off-campus behavior and address the deposit of fraternity parties to off-campus locations.
- Media communication surrounding enforcement has been less than optimal. Best practices suggest that police departments should be available to the public and communicate about what they are doing to prevent and reduce alcohol-related issues.

System Level Strategic Initiatives

As outlined in the charge to the President’s Council on Alcohol and Other Drugs, the University seeks to foster educational practices that are driven and directed to lead to a reduction of this harm, as well as the activities and progress of the past year, Cornell’s NCIPP team will continue to use and enforce the Alcohol Abuse Amelioration Plan (A.A.A.S.).

1. During the fall semester, no first-year students will be allowed to attend Greek events where alcohol is present.
2. All events will be presented at formal or informal fraternity/sorority recruitment activities, whether held on or off-campus.
3. Greek alcohol policy prohibits the use of alcohol as an explicit or implicit condition for initiation or affiliation with a group, team, or organization. There will be zero tolerance for such use.
4. Housing violations involving the consumption of alcohol in fraternity or sorority may result in the referral of the university’s Fraternity and Sorority Review Board to determine the chapter’s recognition status.
5. To determine appropriate legal and other options in the University administration.
6. CUI Police follow a coordination with the Ithaca Police Department to promote consistent educational and enforcement efforts on behalf of Cornell students.
7. The PDSA model can be difficult to implement in a university due to the seasonal nature of many behaviors and events.
8. Starting at 2011, the PDSA model was difficult to implement in a university due to the seasonal nature of many behaviors and events.

System Level Barriers

1. Sustained focus on AOD issues by key personnel is challenged by competing campus priorities and time constraints.
2. The PDSA model was difficult to implement in a university due to the seasonal nature of many behaviors and events.
3. Implementation of wide-range of AOD-related initiatives with the council that includes community collaboration and communication with other educational leaders, staff, and faculty on AOD.
4. Investigators are provided by the A.A.A.S. to chair the proper community collations and Academic and Administrative Coordinating Councils.

College Alcohol Harm Prevention System

Over the past decade, Cornell University has developed organizational structures to facilitate a wide-range of AOD prevention efforts for students, faculty, and staff. The University has taken initiatives to promote effective community-based efforts, resulting in widespread support for the work of the Cornell University Prevention and Outreach team.

For the coming year, we will continue to focus on performance metrics supported by metrics. This will include surveys of student and staff at the beginning of each school year, and we will continue to monitor these metrics to track progress.
